

You'd best be damn careful about letting a few big companies gain so many stations thst the media is controlled by a few corporations.

Your job is to protect the public interests and not to bow to massive lobbying by a few corporations who have figured out that they'll make so much money later on that its worth millions in lobbying now.